Mr. C. A. Brady Died Last Friday At Buffalo Forge

Mr. C. A. Brady died last Friday morning at his home at Buffalo Forge from the effects of a stroke of paralysis sustained several days previous, aged 61 years. The funeral was held from the home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Mr. Charles King of Cincinnati, Ohio, brother-in-law of Mrs. Brady. The interment was made at Falling Spring Presbyterian church. A large number of friends attended the services.

Mr. Brady was a son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. E. Brady of Buffalo Forge. He was born May 29, 1850. He graduated with distinguished honors from the Virginia Military Institute in the class of 1872, and for several years was engaged in engineering work along the Ohio River in the erection of bridges. While engaged in bridge construction at Louisville, Ky., he contracted a malarial fever, which left him a cripple for life. Returning to Rockbridge he engaged in farming and the occasional work of engineering. For some years he was road commissioner for Natural Bridge District, and also served as a school trustee for his district.

Mr. Brady was a useful citizen, enterprising, public-spirited, kindly disposed, and universally esteemed.

He is survived by his wife, who before marriage was Miss Marie Townsend of Brooklyn, N. Y., and one son, Mr. D. E. Brady. One brother and three sisters also survive. Dr. Elwood Brady of Abingdon, Va.; Miss Nannie Brady of Abingdon, Mrs. Lynch and Mrs. Updike of Charleston, W. Va.

Rev. William Graham's Remains to Be Brought to Lexington

After resting for more than a century in St. John's churchyard, Richmond, the remains of Rev. William Graham, the first president of Washington College, will be brought to Lexington next Thursday, May 4th, and on the 5th will be reinterred on the Washington and Lee campus.

The formal exercises will be held in the University chapel at 11 o'clock. Hon. William A. Anderson will deliver an address on the life and work of Mr. Graham. To these exercises the public is invited, both town and county people.

Messrs. Edward L. Graham and Edward T. Robinson, representing the family, and Dr. G. B. Strickler and Mr. Anderson representing the Board of Trustees of Washington and Lee, will accompany the remains from Richmond to Lexington.

Inspection at V. M. I.

Captain Simmons of the general staff, United States Army, made an official visit of inspection to the Virginia Military Institute last week and spent several days testing the acquirements of the battalion.

Practice drill in Butts Manual, a sham battle, signal work, field work, trenches, wire entanglements, reviews and inspection, of equipment and mess hall constituted some of the features of the visit.

Commemoration Services

Thursday evening, May 11th, the Women's Working Society of the Baptist church will have a commemorative service of the 70th anniversary of the constitution of the church in the lecture room.

The Carnival

Smith Greater Shows are giving good exhibitions in Lexington afternoon and evenings on Shield's Hill, under the auspices of the Lexington Firemen.

"Brown of Harvard" Presented by Pad and Puff Club

The initial appearance of the Pad and Puff Club of Washington and Lee University was made last Thursday night at the University gymnasium in "Brown of Harvard" before a large and appreciative audience composed of Easter visitors, townspeople and students.

The production, the most difficult performance attempted by the Washington and Lee students, was enthusiastically received. An additional and attractive feature was the music, written especially for the occasion by Students Bootay and Robbins, and the three solos, words and music of which were composed by Thornton Allen, of last year's freshman class. Special scenery was prepared for the play.

The play itself is popular and well-known to the theatre going public, having been a success for the past four seasons as presented by Henry Woodruff in New York. College scenes and activities were depicted with considerable skill by the various participants. The scene is laid in Cambridge, Mass.

The play was given under the direction of Miss Anne R. White, with Student Geo. B. Peters, president.

Property Sales

The Rockbridge Realty Corporation has sold a building lot on Jefferson street, Lexington, belonging to County Treasurer S. R. Moore, to Dr. Robert Glasgow for $1,260. Dr. Glasgow will erect two modern residences on the lot.

Rev. D. H. Kern of Staunton has sold the old Haughwout house on Main street, Lexington, to Mrs. Bridget Mackeey.

Frank T. Glasgow has sold the Dr. Ruffner farm near Lexington, advertised in The Gazette, to Mr. A. K. Roop of Montgomery county, Va., for $13,000, who will take possession in the summer and make his home there. Mr. Roop is a son-in-law of Joseph E. McCormick of the Wesley Chapel neighborhood.

J. Ed. Deaver has bought the W. C. Charlton home on Main street for $3,000.

Moore & Moore have sold the L. Wright brick residence on Jefferson street to Charles R. Deaver for $2,000.

Splendid Concert By W. & L. Boys

Sunday's Staunton Leader: An enthusiastic audience, composed mostly of the young ladies of the Mary Baldwin Seminary, greeted the Washington and Lee University students Friday, when the combined musical clubs gave a concert at the Beverley Theatre. It was the best heard in Staunton for a long time, and they deserved a larger house than they had. Mr. Bootay, the accompanist and leader of the band, was splendid and he made a big hit in his vocal selections in the vaudeville sketch entitled "A Contradictory Dad." In fact every one of the young men acquitted themselves splendidly, but especial mention should be made of Mr. E. A. Paredes of Mexico, who rendered a beautiful solo on the violin. Mr. R. A. Waddill is president of this club and Mr. C. A. Robbins is vice-president.

Splendid Fruit Farm

A fine farm with one of the very best orchards in the Valley of Virginia; 80 acres in apples, peaches and pears. Good roads, close to railroad, fine section of country, every advantage. Few such places can be bought. If interested in fruit or farming, write to Rockbridge Realty Corporation, Lexington, Va.

Change of the C. & O. schedule went into effect Sunday. Sunday train reaches Lexington at 10:50 instead of 8:25 a. m. The Sunday night train has been put on the main line.

One Keystone one-horse Corn Planter at a low price at J. Gassman & Son's.

Mrs. Samuel Judy Weel died last Wednesday at the home of her son, H. P. Judy at Goshen.

Mr. R. B. Moore and Miss Lucy K. Hardy of Buena Vista were married in Roanoke April 17th.

The Ben Greet Woodland Players on May 13

Again we are to have the pleasure of seeing the Ben Greet Company in Lexington and this time Mr. Ben Greet himself will be the caste of at least one of the plays, taking the part of Dromio in Shakspeare's side-splitting "Comedy of Errors" at 3 p. m., May 13. The night performance, 8 p. m., will be "She Stoops to Conquer," Goldsmith's irresistibly droll comedy. Both performances will be on the Washington and Lee campus if the weather permits. Price of admission, $1.00 for a single performance, $1.50 for the two. If outdoors, children under 15 will be charged 75 cents for the two, 50 cents for one; if indoors, $1.00 for two, 50 cents for one.

The plays to be given this year are amongst the best offered by the company and we feel sure every one that attends the performances of such admirable players will be richly repaid.

Informal lectures (free) will be delivered by Prof. Currell on these two plays Friday afternoon, May 12, at 4 p. m. in the High School Auditorium, and all who are unfamiliar with them are cordially invited to attend.

MISS A. R. WHITE,
W. S. CURRELL.

Personals Around Longwood

Gazette Correspondence

April 24—The Sabbath school of Broad Creek A. R. P. church, was reorganized recently with Mr. H. A. Swartz, superintendent.

The Missionary Society of the A. R. P. church realized a neat sum, from the bazaar and ice cream supper which was held at the residence of Mr. C. B. Foster on last Thursday night.

Mr. A. G. Brown of Old Providence, Augusta County, is spending a few days with friends here.

Miss Edythe Swartz of Buchanan, Va., who has been the guest of friends near Longwood for the past week, returned to her home today.

From present indications the apple crop in this neighborhood will be a short one, many trees have no bloom on them.

Many people of this neighborhood are planning to attend the John H. Sparks' world famous shows billed to exhibit at Lexington on Saturday, April 29.

MRS. JOHN A. JACKSON

The Mary Custis Lee Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy wishes to express its sorrow at the recent loss of one of its members, Mrs. Nannie J. Jackson, wife of Mr. John A. Jackson, fell asleep at her home in Lexington, March 15, 1911.

Her going home makes a gap in our ranks and we will miss her. Always interested in things relating to the Confederate cause, always ready to perform the duties assigned her, always smiling, serene and cheerful, this Chapter feels it can ill afford to lose such a member.

In our cemetery, in the center of the Soldiers' square, stands a marble shaft, a monument to the Confederate soldier. This monument was erected chiefly through Mrs. Jackson's untiring efforts and speaks today of her love for the Lost Cause.

This Chapter extends to the sorrowing family its heartfelt sympathy in their grief.

MRS. MATTHEW WHITE PAXTON,
MISS MARY NELSON PENDLETON.
